CRIME CRISIS

THE SHOCKING extent of Black Crime in London was revealed in Home Office figures released on Friday 10th March.

★ 50% of those arrested for mugging and robbery by the Metropolitan Police during 1985-87 were Black!

★ 20% of those arrested for burglary and assaults from 1981 to 1987 were Black!

★ 18% of all those arrested for all types of crimes during the period 1981-87 were black-skinned, according to classifications used by the the Metropolitan Police.

The Home Office claims that the coloured population makes up only 5% of the total living in the Metropolitan Police area. If that is the case the stark reality is that a black person is 20 TIMES more likely to commit a violent crime in the capital than a White person.

The National Front promises to cut violent crime in London at a stroke by repatriating coloured immigrants at present living in the capital to the land of their ethnic origin.

Living in Fear

WOMEN IN Manchester are living in fear after recorded rapes in the city rose 41% in 1988.

Crime figures released by Greater Manchester Police also showed that murders were up 20% and drug-trafficking 46%.

Worry over the increase in the number of rapes was not allayed when Chief Constable James Anderton hailed the figures as a success pointing to a reduction in non-violent crimes such as burglary, theft and criminal damage.

But the reduction in those crimes can be credited to the public and their Neighbourhood Watch schemes. The police's job should be the eradication of violent crime and in this, through lack of manpower, they are falling down. To combat the rise in violent crime in Manchester, Home Office Minister, John Patten, has allocated an extra 45 officers to the Greater Manchester Constabulary

We await to see whether the 1989 figures will offer any comfort to the women of Manchester as they take their life in their hands on the streets of the city.

BRITISH MONEY GOES ABROAD

BRITISH TAXPAYERS' money which should be helping British people is being squandered abroad by the Thatcher Government on Third World countries.

£10 million of our hard-earned money went to Kenya last month as part of a £20 million package agreed when Mrs Thatcher visited Kenya in January 1988.

The National Front says: "Scrap Foreign Aid and look after Britain's sick, elderly and needy".

ESSENTIAL READING FOR MUSLIMS

'JESUS IN Heaven & Earth' is a book that claims that Jesus was a fraud. It attacks everything on which Christianity is based. It is the classic example of blasphemy and should be unlawful in Britain.

The book is on sale in every mosque throughout Britain and is deemed essential reading for Muslims by their leaders.

One-in-Ten Blacks to be Jailed!

ALMOST ONE in 10 Black youths are likely to be jailed. That's according to a report published in March by NACRO, the National Association for the Care and Resettlement of Offenders.

The report goes on to warn of the high and rising Black prison population in Britain.

- In June 1985, 12.5% of the prison population was Black.
- In June 1986, 13.8% of the prison population was Black.
- In June 1987, 14.0% of the prison population was Black.

The report concludes "Latest Home Office figures tell us that nearly one in every 20 young men is likely to be sentenced to custody at some time before he reaches 21. If the proportion of young Black men going into custody is twice as high as the proportion of young white men, this means that nearly one in 10 of young Black men will have been locked up before their 21st birthday".

★ BOMBING: IRA Terrorists in Britain.

IRA & ANC TWINS IN TERROR!

THE HUNT FOR the IRA 'Jackal', Patrick Sheehy, has highlighted the growing links between IRA terrorists in Ulster and anti-apartheid ANC terrorists in South Africa and their supporters in Britain. Police hunting the IRA gunmen who murdered a British soldier in Ostend last August and who planted the bombs at Mill Hill and Tern Hill barracks have focused their inquiries on former members of the South African Communist Party and members of the African National Congress based in Britain.

These links between the IRA and anti-South African groups are nothing new. Now the National Front can exclusively highlight the bond of bloody murder linking the IRA butchers and the apparently respectable ANC.

February 1976: Belfast: Robert Mugabe, then boss of the anti-Rhodesian ZAPU organisation, now Communist dictator of 'Zimbabwe', visits Andersonstown, West Belfast. There he meets Seamus Twomey, head of the Provo murder gang. They agree to pool information and skills on how to plant bombs in shopping centres inflicting maximum casualties. The ANC in South Africa later use this tactic, taught them, via Zapu, by the Provisional IRA.

August 1981: Ottawa, Canada: Meeting takes place between the IRA, ANC, the South-West African terrorists SWAPO, the PLO and the Farabundo Marti Liberation Front of Central America.

1982: New York: First public backing of the IRA by the ANC when Secretary of the ANC mission to the United Nations, David Ndaba, appears as a 'character witness' for self-confessed IRA gun-runner George Harrison at his trial.

March 1983: Lisbon, Portugal: ANC leader Oliver Tambo and SWAPO boss Sam Nujoma meet IRA/Sinn Fein delegation led by Sean Halfpenny, Sinn Fein Director of Foreign Affairs. (Source: IRA's An Phoblacht newspaper 7th April, 1983).

Summer 1983: Dublin: IRA newspaper An Phoblacht quotes SWAPO's Shapua Kaukunga pledging SWAPO support for the IRA's 'Irish Liberation struggle'.

September 1983: Paris: IRA delegation lead by Sean O Bradaign and Richard Behal meets SWAPO and declares 'solidarity and support'. (An Phoblacht, October 1983).

June 1984: South Africa: ANC terrorist is quoted as admitting that the ANC bombing strategy is "deployed and supplied" by the IRA and INLA. (The Citizen 23rd June 1984).

July 1985: Moscow: ANC delegation at the Soviet's '12th World Festival of Youth and Students' secretly meets the IRA who, according to a British Government Foreign and Commonwealth Office briefing of June 1988 attended this 'Festival' thinly disguised as the Irish Communist Party delegation.

October 1985: Dublin: IRA/Sinn Fein leader, Gerry Adams tells IRA/Sinn Fein AGM, "We do not hypocritically call on the ANC to renounce violence. We stand shoulder to shoulder with them. To the ANC we extend our unconditional solidarity. To our Black brothers and sisters we send this simple message of support - Fight On!".

December 1985: Barcelona: IRA delegation led by Patrick Rice secretly meets ANC at a 'Stateless Nations' conference.

March 1986: Dublin: At Sinn Fein's commemoration of the ANC's 75th birthday, the ANC's Shirley Mashlane links the ANC and IRA terror campaigns. "Similarities between the struggles were to be found throughout her speech". (An Phoblacht, 28th March 1986.)

March 1986: Tripoli, Libya: Colonel Gaddafi's 'Struggle Against Imperialism, Racism & Zionism' conference hosts an IRA delegation led by Alex Maskey, Gerard Lawless and Donal Boyle which holds talks with the ANC while Gaddafi pledges active support for both murder gangs.

November 1896: Athens, Greece: IRA delegation led by Alex Maskey and Mitchell McLaughlin attend the 'Helio Basso Foundation Conference' with the ANC. Maskey revealed that discussions were held to set up pro-IRA solidarity groups within the ANC, PLO and other terrorist groups. (An Phoblacht 20th November, 1986).

October 1986: Dublin: IRA boss Gerry Adams praises Black mobs who howled abuse at moderate Irish politician Dr Conor Cruise O'Brien during his visit to South Africa. "They chanted Victory to the ANC! Victory to the IRA! We share their contempt for Dr O'Brien and we share their solidarity in our common struggle". (An Phoblacht, 23rd October 1986.

Winter 1986/87: Irish Republic: IRA/Sinn Fein and the Irish Anti-Apartheid Movement mount a joint campaign against businesses with alleged South African connections.

January 1987: Londonderry: South Africa/Ireland One Struggle Exhibition held depicting IRA and ANC terrorists standing side by side holding aloft AK47 rifles.

March 1987: Dublin: ANC's Eric Natshali speaks at a Sinn Fein/IRA dominated 'anti-apartheid week' at Trinity College.

April 1987: Guernica, Spain: IRA delegation led by Pat Rice yet again meets the ANC, as well as the PLO, El Salvadorean Marxist terrorist and the Libyan Peace Committee.

November 1987: Dublin: SWAPO leader Sam Nujoma declares at an IRA/Sinn Fein press conference "Ireland is a land of freedom fighters for liberation and freedom, and we have great admiration for your struggle for freedom. We are following your brilliant revolutionary example of fighting imperialism". The Black terror boss then gave a presentation to ex-IRA Chief of Staff, later United Nations Commissioner to Namibia, Sean MacBride, in thanks for him having provided SWAPO terrorists with UN travel documents. (An Phoblacht, 5th November 1987.)

(British troops are now in South West Africa to protect the IRA's SWAPO friends during the UN-supervised sellout of SWA to a Black Marxist dictatorship).

November 1987: New York: ANC spokesmen Victor Nashebela and Godfrey Sitiole protest outside the British Consulate against the strip-searching of IRA prisoners. (An Phoblacht, 3rd December 1987).

December 1987: New York: ANC Cultural Boycott Committee Chairman Thabo Ntinge accepts an award from self-confessed IRA gun-runner George Harrison and notorious Belfast Republican Roy Collins (Starry Plough No.2, 1988).

January 1988: Cork, Irish Republic: ANC executive member Ronnie Kasrils, meets the IRA leadership. He proclaims a formal alliance between the ANC and the IRA. The Provo leadership states "The ANC will be fully supported by the military wing of the IRA".

November 1988: London: National Front Chairman, Ian Anderson, reveals to an audience of several hundred, including top police officers, that two ANC terrorists have been staying with the 'Commander' of the South Down Provisional IRA, Malachy Mooney at 68, Station Road, Newcastle, Co, Down. The NF chairman demands Government action. None is taken.

Subsequently the same demand, based on the same information, is made directly to the Prime Minister by Tory MP Andrew Hunter. Again nothing is done.

March 1989: Britain: Police scouring the country for IRA terrorist Patrick Sheehy reveal that they fear he may be being sheltered by ANC terrorists living openly in Britain.

This dossier, linking the ANC inextricably with the Provo Murder Gang is only the tip of the iceberg as far as what the security forces know and Margaret Thatcher has had reported to her by them.

The Government knows the African National Congress and other anti-apartheid groups are hand-in-glove with the IRA They have banned the IRA - so they should now ban the ANC.

ANC terror bosses like Oliver Tambo, mastermind bombings and shootings. The ANC is aiding and abetting the IRA's war against Britain and the British people yet their representatives are are allowed to freely move around our country.

The ANC must be banned and its agents in Britain either arrested or deported.

SMARTENING UP THE FRONT

THINGS ARE moving at a very fast rate in one of the NF's newer branches, Coventry.

Leafletting is the main weekly activity and over 5,000 items of literature have been distributed on the streets. The first meeting takes place on Thursday 27th April with Steve Brady as the guest speaker and to help the growth of the East Midlands region in general a 24 hours phone line has been organised to deal with enquiries. The number is (0203) 619939.

Coventry Organiser Dean O'Brien runs a tight ship. The March committee meeting passed the following two resolutions.

i) All branch committee members must wear a shirt and tie at the top table for branch meetings.

ii) All branch committee members who sit on the top table for the branch meeting are not allowed to drink alcohol during the meeting. It is a disgusting sight to see pints of beer on top of the Union Jack table flag.

The resolutions indicate the commitment of Coventry National Front to improve the image of the Party. Other branches should take note.

BRANCH NEWS

■ NF MEMBERS in West London have launched a campaign to set up branches in what is a very weak area for the National Front. Hillingdon saw NF teams of leafletters for the first time for a number of years and other areas targetted are Hounslow, Ealing and Hammersmith.

North London Regional Organiser, Bob Nash is helping with the campaign, especially with the Hendon and Barnet area.

■ LADY Jane Birdwood addressed the March meeting of Birmingham National Front where an attendance of over 50 members contributed £141.00 to local funds.

■ HOPES of the National Front contesting a crucial election for Morecambe Council were vetoed by the NF Elections Dept. when the nominated candidate was found not to be a member of the National Front and hadn't been for three years.

AFTER favourable local publicity Portsmouth National Front will start again to hold monthly meetings after a lapse of 14 months.

■ BRIGHTON's March meeting was addressed by Steve Brady who spoke on the environment. The branch voted to donate £100 to the NF's Euro-Election campaign in East Birmingham.

■ IAN ANDERSON, the Chairman of the National Front was the guest speaker at the March meeting of Slough National Front.

■ MOHAMMED MUSA, Chairman of the Walsall Council for Community Relations has described news of the setting up of a National Front branch in Walsall as a major headache.

Branch Efficiency League

WHEN LEEDS National Front amassed a massive 230 pts on their Branch Report Sheet for February they must have been convinced that they would be back on top of the Branch Efficiency League.

However January's leaders Great Yarmouth were not going to relinquish their position lightly and on their returns they amassed 245pts.

Tom Holmes the Great Yarmouth Organiser believes he might have problems next month though. His branch gained 50pts for 10 letters they had published during February in their local paper 'The Yellow Advertiser', but the paper has now been taken over and the editor moved. Tom believes that the new editor might not find the NF's viewpoint on the nation's problems so interesting.

Some branches are still letting the NF down. The worst five branches last month failed even to return their report sheets. That's a poor reflection on those committees who are not only letting down the National Front but their local activists. No doubt Worthing will argue that with leafletting every Tuesday, papersales in two towns every Saturday as well as midweek paper sales they just don't have time to fill in the Branch Report Sheet.

Such an excuse doesn't hold much water.

Euro-Election Campaign

DEPUTY CHAIRMAN of the National Front, Martin Wingfield, has been selected by Birmingham National Front to contest the forthcoming East Birmingham Euro-Election.

The campaign has now started in earnest with branches throughout the country helping with the folding, stuffing into envelopes and stamping of a quarter of a million election addresses.

It will be the biggest ever distribution of National Front leaflets in a concentrated area and the biggest output of NF propaganda over a short period of time since the 1983 General Election.

Although centred on Birmingham the campaign will be a complete team effort and will make sure that the usually quiet months of May and June will be bubbling with activity.

Money is still desperately needed to pay for 250,000 envelopes, 250,000 election addresses, posters, stickers and supplementary leaflets, and all this besides the £1,000 election deposit.

The area has given Birmingham Branch some optimistic council election results in the past and all local activists are committed to give the National Front every opportunity in trying to gain that elsusive 5% to save the deposit.

ANGLO-IRISH AGREEMENT:

Costing Lives Not Saving Them!

THE ANGLO-Irish Agreement was responsible for the murder of two senior Ulster policemen on Monday 20th March.

Chief Supt. Harry Breen and Supt. Bob Buchanan were ambushed in their car by IRA gunmen after they had attended a meeting about cross-border security with the Irish police.

The IRA was tipped off about the meeting which took place in Dundalk, known as the garrison town of the IRA, then the killers set their trap which led to the gunning down of the two officers.

Apologists for the Anglo-Irish Agreement quickly denied the possibility of a mole in the Garda informing the IRA but the facts leave little doubt that this was the case.

* The meeting was organised at only three hours notice.

* The gunmen knew that the two officers were unarmed and unescorted.

* The gunmen knew to search the car for secret papers outlining the RUC's measures for tightening cross-border security.

When will the British Government accept that the Anglo-Irish Agreement is costing lives not saving them?

• The wreck of the ambushed car of the RUC officers.

• Supt. Bob Buchanan and Chief Supt. Harry Breen.

Labour Welcomes Sinn Fein to Sheffield

SHEFFIELD LABOUR councillors have invited Sinn Fein/IRA leader Gerry Adams to give a major speech in the city in September.

The man behind the invitation is Councillor Alan Wigfield who has asked Adams to present the Marx Memorial Lecture.

Labour Councillors in Sheffield have a record of supporting the IRA. In January 1987, they joined an IRA march through the city where the marchers carried placards saying "For the IRA against the British army". Many of the marchers also chanted their support for the IRA and the Brighton, Grand Hotel, bombers.

It was also in 1987 that Labour invited two Sinn Fein/IRA councillors to a Town Hall meeting, and next month Sinn Fein councillor Eamonn McCann has been invited to speak at a Labour Party sponsored rally.

• A placard carried by IRA marchers in Sheffield in 1987.

• Gerry Adams with Ken Livingstone another Labour apologist for the IRA.

Tell Him What You Think!

THIS IS Labour Councillor Alan Wigfield. He believes it is appropriate that Gerry Adams speaks in Sheffield despite the bombing, murder and maiming committed by IRA thugs in Ulster and on the mainland.

Do you think that Coun. Wigfield is right? Why not give him your opinion. He can be contacted on Sheffield (0742) 436231.

Yanks Ready to Snap Up Jaguar

THE GOVERNMENT'S 'Golden Share' in Jaguar Cars which prevents the firm from being taken over by foreigners expires next year.

With 40% of their total production going to America it seems likely that the most obvious bidder will be one of the American car manufacturers. Considerable speculation in The City about possible bidders supports this idea.

The end of next year would also be an opportune moment for the take-over of Jaguar Cars with the company's profits being hit by the fall in the value of the dollar over the last 12 months and Jaguar not expected to fully recover for another year.

Lotus has already fallen victim to General Motors and if Jaguar is taken over it is only a question of time before the new owners move production away from this country to a new location with the consequent loss of jobs in Britain.

The loss would be of the jobs of the men who have built up Jaguar by their skill, their work and their dedication. But ther such an outcome is normal ir Thatcher's Britain.

• American expertise spiralling into oblivion off the coast of Florida

FORGET TRIDENT BUY BRITISH

AN AMERICAN Trident 2 missile corkscrews out of control during a test firing 50 miles off the coast of Florida.

Despite the appalling record of American-made armaments the British Government still intends to buy these missiles for the Royal Navy.

The National Front believes that all arms used for the defence of Britian should be made in Britain, in British factories by British workers.

CLOAK OF SILENCE

"THE NATURE OF violent crime which threatens to poison life in the inner cities appears to include a large amount of robbery by black youths from Africa and the Caribbean" said Lord Reay in a House of Lords debate at the end of March.

Noting that in Lambeth 14% of the population was black, he said that 72% of rape offenders there were reportedly black. 6% of the Islington population was black and 43% of rape offenders were reportedly black.

Lord Reay complained that these figures were never published because Black Crime was a forbidden subject. The Metropolitan police were immensely reluctant to discuss crimes in terms of race.

Lord Reay went on to deplore the 'cloak of silence' that hid the extent of Black Crime from the public.

RUSSIAN COAL IMPORTS THREATEN BRITISH MINERS

LORD MARSHALL, the Chairman of the soon-to-be privatised Central Electricity Generating Board has defended the board's decision to import Russian coal.

He agreed that commercial considerations would mean that the board's policy was to buy the cheapest coal available, irrespective of the effect on British coal-producing areas.

Lord Marshall also admitted that the board would buy nuclear power from France even if that meant closing down nuclear power stations in Britain.

What an example of the Tory philosophy of putting profits before people.

The National Front believes British miners and British power workers should supply the energy needs of the British people from British mines and British power stations.

TORY ON RACE COUNCIL

MRS SHAWAR Sadeque, a researcher at Kingston Polytechnic, Surrey, and a member of the Conservative women's national committee, has been appointed to the Commission for Racial Equality.

RACE TRAINING FOR MAGISTRATES

ALL NEWLY-appointed magistrates are to undergo Home Office training in racial awareness Lord Mackay, the Lord Chancellor announced at the end of March.

The move coincides with a Home Office initiative requiring magistrates' courts to draw up equal opportunities employment policies. The department is also considering training on race relations for magistrates' court staff.

Child Benefit Freeze Leads Families Into Debt.

FAMILIES, WHERE the wage-earner is unemployed are falling deeper and deeper into debt according to a report published by the Social Security Advisory Committee.

Around two million people are having trouble with repayments with nearly a quarter of parents who receive state benefit owing more than £500.

The report blames the Government's freezing of the Child Benefit Allowance as the main reason why families with children are running into serious debt.

One in eight families are running out of cash before the end of the week or month, while among supplementary benefit claimants no fewer than half run out of cash before the next Giro cheque is due.

Against this background there has been an explosion of credit debts which has doubled in Britain over the years 1980-87. One third of all consumer goods are now bought on credit. The average household has commitments of £1,800 at any one time with repayments equivalent of eight weeks average earnings.

DEMOCRACY BLACK AFRICAN STYLE

★ It Starts Like This

DEMOCRACY IN Black Africa means just one thing: 'One Man - One Vote - One Time '. All the efforts of the do-gooder British liberals who attempted to give Rhodesia a democratic constitution have come to nothing.

• Nkomo: Zapped by Zanu.

After the first batch of elections two parties emerged: Mr Nkomo's ZAPU and Robert Mugabe's ZANU. In December 1987 these two were merged at the point of a gun and Robert Mugabe became the de facto dictator of Zimbabwe.

It can hardly have come as a surprise that this Marxist dictator now rules a corrupt one party state that is slowly acquiring all the attributes of a normal Black African state - a secret police force, the disappearance of opposition leaders, financial scandals involving Government leaders, and, of course, incipient bankruptcy.

On 17th March Mugabe took the latest step along this path when one of the last vestiges of opposition, The Chronicle newspaper, was stopped from printing an announcement that one of Mr Mugabe's former colleagues is to oppose him in the next presidential elections. Mr Tekere was expelled from ZANU last September after demanding a 'clean up' of the corrupt Government. As a result of this suppression no local newspaper has been allowed to print Mr Tekere's announcement of his plans.

The slide of Rhodesia into Marxist chaos has been greeted with total indifference by the British Government who handed over the country to Mugabe and his thugs. Not one tear has been shed over the hard work of thousands of White Rhodesians who built up their country and who were so cruelly betrayed by the British Government.

Not only does Mrs Thatcher call for the release of terrorist Nelson Mandela, she is very happy to deal with former terrorist Mugabe who waged war in Rhodesia and is falling over herself to hand over millions of pounds of British taxpayers' money in aid to his corrupt regime. No wonder she received such a raptuous welcome when she arrived in Zimbabwe at the end of last month!

1992: TALENT WILL DRAIN FROM BRITAIN

SKILLED BRITISH workers will leave Britain in their droves with the advent of a single European market in 1992.

Because of the multi-national make up of many of today's companies, Britain's 'professionals' will perceive advantages in living and working in the EEC.

Professor Peter Herriot, head of occupational psychology at Birkbeck College believes the exodus of skilled workers will compound the problems posed in Britain at the moment of skill shortages and a falling domestic birth-rate.

In his new book Recruitment in the 90's Professor Herriot believes, "There will not be an influx but an exodus; designers to Dusseldorf, physicists to Freiburg, computer scientists to Cologne, engineers to Essen and mathematicians to Milan".

The National Front is the only British political party that has consistently told the British people that the Common Market will destroy Britain. The National Front is the only British political party that says "GET BRITAIN OUT".

Thatcher Funds the Holy War Against the West

THE BRITISH Government has agreed to give an extra £2 million to the Afghan Mujahidin interim government.

So Mrs Thatcher is pledging British support for a Moslem fundamentalist government in exile who if they win control of the country will no doubt echo the instructions of Ayatollah Khomeni to threaten our liberties and bomb our planes in their Holy War against the West.

GET BRITAIN OUT

LESS THAN 30% of the British people think that Britain being in the Common Market benefits our country.

48% were totally indifferent to the EEC and wouldn't care if it was scrapped tomorrow while 20% said they would be relieved.

The Cost of the Poll Tax

THE COST of introducing the poll tax in Manchester will be a staggering £3 million.

450 extra staff will have to be brought in to deal with the complicated set of rules.

Seven storeys of the council's office in Moss Side will have to be turn over to accomodate the poll tax staff.

The National Front believes the poll tax is an anti-family tax and will only benefit the well-off. The National Front believes that the £3 million would be better used on providing more housing and welfare services in the city.

Cuts put more out on the Streets

DEPARTMENT OF Environment figures show a 17.4% increase in the number of homeless housed by local councils.

The rise in Manchester was a 15% increase from 11,200 in 1987 to 13,150 last year and is blamed on government cutbacks in local authority housing cash.

SALMAN RUSHDIE AFFAIR:

And So the Killing Begins

IT WAS ALWAYS just a matter of time before Moslems in their frustration at the lack of action taken by Western Governments over the Salman Rushdie book, turned on each other to vent their feelings.

It was always just a matter of time before the killing began.

Sheikh Abdullah al-Ahdal, the Tunisian leader of the main mosque in Brussels had appeared on television and had opposed Ayatollah Khomeini's call for the killing of Salman Rushdie. For his pains he was gunned down by fellow Moslems at his office two weeks later.

The event in itself is of little importance to Britain and the British people. Asians kill Asians because of religious differences day in day out, in Britain and outside Britain. They hold life very cheaply and think nothing of ending an argument permanently by removing the person with whom they are arguing.

What is of importance to Britain are the remarks made on Saturday 1st April by the influential Islamic leader Dr Kalim Siddiqui who called on a meeting of 600 Muslim leaders assembled in London to 'break the law'. His speech was greeted by continuous chants of 'Rushdie Must Die' and 'Ban the Book'.

What did he mean by 'break the law'? Which law was he referring to? The blasphemy law, how on earth could they break that law, or was it the law that forbids the killing of another person?

A day after Dr. Siddiqui's speech, Muslims in Turkey bombed a car belonging to a British diplomat in that country, the first direct attack on a British person since the affair started.

The Tories are keeping their heads down over the whole affair. Here are the new Britons, Thatcher's children of capitalism and the corner shop, she hasn't missed an opportunity to sing their praises, and now they are undoing all her propaganda by threatening the very society Mrs Thatcher claimed they were part of.

A favourite media saying during the Rushdie saga has been moderate Moslems. Unfortunately for the media they mustn't use that term any more. A moderate Moslem in the present climate is a very unhealthy thing to be. Anyway that is right. There is no such thing as a moderate Moslem. There are just Moslems who know they have done well out of Britain and think they should temper their language in case they upset the indigenous population, and Moslems who have done well out of Britain and don't give a damn for the indigenous population.

The key to it all is the British people. What will they make of it. They have seen their country invaded, the laws of the land changed to suit the invaders, they've seen riots, they've seen muggings and they've seen murder. They've seen their schools, their religion and their way of life surrendered to appease the invaders and they have done nothing.

So why should this latest affair make any difference?

We must remember that it only takes a straw to break the camel's back? And wouldn't it be ironic if that straw was Salman Rushdie, an Asian laying the first stone in paving the way for the National Front to gain power and return Britain to the British people.

NF IN FINE FETTLE IN THE SOUTH-WEST

JOHN HILL returned to his home in Birmingham on Tuesday 4th April after a short speaking and meeting tour of the South West.

Saturday Afternoon: His weekend started with a visit to Exeter where he joined local National Front papersellers at the City Football ground where the visitors were Peterborough. Despite the presence of Labour Party activists giving out leaflets attacking the NF, all papers were sold and the Front given a big thumbs up by the Exeter supporters.

Saturday Evening: John then travelled to Torquay where he held discussions with the Devon Region organiser Mark Cotterill about the progress of the Party in the area.

Sunday Evening: It was back to Exeter where John addressed the first meeting of the Exeter Branch of the National Front. Local Organiser Steve New and Chairman Tony Labatt were very pleased with the turn out of 20 plus members and collection of £36.00.

Monday Morning: John gave interviews to two local papers in Exeter on the growth of the National Front in the city and in the offices of one paper bumped into the leader of the Labour Party group organising the campaign against the National Front who was visiting the paper to complain about the increase in local NF activity.

Monday Evening: 8.00pm in Bristol John addresses a meeting of the Bristol Branch of the National Front. By the end of the meeting 30 members were in attendance and morale in the branch was very high despite more than a few difficulties in the last three months.

John held talks with John Daniels, the South West Regional Organiser who has worked tirelessly and generously financed in an effort to hold Bristol NF together. He also met party officials from South Wales and Chippenham and heard of the progress in their respective areas.

Saturday sees John speaking at an Education & Training Seminar in Leeds and then the following Friday at an Executive Council Meeting in Worthing. Such is the busy life of a National Front official. And John's verdict on it all:

"What can be better proof of the excellent health of the National Front than such continuous activity."

TWO NEW FACES ON THE DIRECTORATE

AT A MEETING of the National Directorate of the National Front held in Central London on Sunday 2nd April, two new members of the Directorate were approved.

The Directorate agreed to acknowledge Dean O'Brien as the East Midlands Regional Organiser looking after an area including the NF units Coventry, Derby, Nottingham, Leicester, Peterborough and Northampton.

The Directorate also agreed to split the South-West Region into two with Mark Cotterill joining the Directorate as the Regional Organiser looking after Devon, Cornwall and Dorset while John Daniels retains his seat on the Directorate as Regional Organiser for Avon, Somerset and Wiltshire.

The Directorate also discussed at length the progress of the Party in Wales, Scotland and Ulster where although membership had improved, properly functioning branches were thin on the ground. A plan of action was drawn up to encourage the setting up of branches outside the existing areas of Cardiff, Glasgow and Belfast.

HOME COUNTIES NORTH MEETING

THE BIGGEST NF Home Counties North Regional meeting for many years was held in Leighton Buzzard on Tuesday 7th March.

Organisers from Hemel Hempstead, Amersham, Chesham, Luton, Dunstable, Hitchen, Letchworth, Bedford and Milton Keynes were present to discuss the plans for future expansion for the NF in the area.

The meeting agreed to target Watford, St Albans and Aylesbury as towns where NF units should be set up.

A Word For It

I SEE that our beloved Home Secretary, Superwimp Douglas Hurd, has offered the Belgian authorities every assistance in the fight against terrorism following the murder of the Imam of Brussels. Though the attitude of most citizens, British or Belgian, to the affair is "Ah well, one down, ten million to go", Mr. Hurd seems to believe that the demise of this foreigner in a foreign country is of supreme national importance.

I'm sure the Belgians are very grateful. They might just possibly, however, ponder the value of such assistance from a man who allows hordes of aliens to roam our streets threatening murder and mayhem. They might also have noticed that his valiant campaign against the criminal psychopaths of the IRA most frequently results in his allies winding up in the morgue rather than the terrorists.

Although the Belgians have themselves been somewhat unwilling to offer us any assistance against the IRA, this may well be due to the fact that they find the stance of Hurd and his kind just a trifle incredible.

They may find the spectacle of British troops escorting IRA sympathisers on their 'Easter Rising' celebrations somewhat mind-numbing. Perhaps their view of a situation whereby IRA mouthpiece Gerry Adams may boast of IRA murders accomplished and promise still more to come, while the security forces keep a 'low-profile' at a discreet distance, is tinged with disbelief.

Perhaps, like me, they are appalled when two senior RUC officers, unarmed lest they offend against the dignity of Eire, are gunned down in the 'dangerous bandit country' of S. Armagh; when RUC men are pilloried for 'shooting to kill' IRA terrorists; when British soldiers are shot or blown up, their deaths being briefly reported and swiftly forgotten. Perhaps, like me, they wonder just who is being hunted, the terrorist or the security forces.

They might be enlightened as to the British attitude to terrorism by two recent court cases in England.

In one, our own Ian Taylor was fined a whacking £600 for making so bold as to be beastly about the IRA when they staged an impudent parade through the streets of our capital city. In another, an Englishman was jailed for nine months for thumping an Irishman who sang IRA songs in a London pub. The remarks of the judge, Peter Rountree, were revealing. He said; "Antagonism or annoyance at other people's views is no reason for violence". So that's it; when they boast of killing your comrades, you must respect their point of view and not turn nasty. Doormats don't fight back.

It is characteristic of old and effete societies that would-be defenders of the nation are persecuted in order that the nation's enemies may be appeased.

Perhaps the Belgians have heard that there's a word for that - the word is decadance.

Twitgate

IT'S STRANGE how the British media is so obsessed with American politics and politicians. I wonder just how many hours of TV time and acres of newsprint were devoted to the saga of John Tower's failed nomination for U.S. Secretary of State. He was alleged to drink too much - though just how much is too much was never stated. He was also suspected of going out with girls. Gosh! It seems that only a teetotal eunuch is qualified to be U.S. Secretary of State and, judging from the present crop of American foreign policy disasters, who can doubt it.

Perhaps the media's preoccupation with the purity and sobriety of foreign politicians is because it's so difficult to find evidence of either in our own. Winston Churchill, for example, was said to be always sloshed to the eyeballs before lunch though, judging from the catalogue of wartime disasters over which the boozy old windbag presided, I would have said he was stoned before breakfast. Lloyd George, again, not only went out with a lot of girls but stayed in with them as well. Our media, however, seem to regard such matters very lightly and do not tack the idiotic suffix 'gate' on to our political scandals as they do in America (as with Contragate etc.) Whoever heard of Winniegate or Taffygate, or Parkinsongate or, just lately, Moynihangate?

Yes our very own wee Minister of Sport is up to his ears in scandal - though, of course, it would not need to be very deep for that to be the case.

It seems that one Pamella Bordes (nee Singh), a former Miss India, has been strutting her stuff through the red light district of the Palace of Westminster. Not only is she full of Eastern promise but has apparently been delivering it in bulk, having first honed her talents on Messrs Trelford and Neil, the editors, respectively, of the Observer and Times newspapers. This has incited their less high-toned rival papers to allege that Ms Bordes is nothing but a 'high-class call girl' - this being patently untrue since there could be nothing high-class in the depths occupied by the riff-raff of the British press.

Ms Bordes first came into contact with the great men of our land when she was hired as a Parliamentary 'research assistant', though just what kind of research she was engaged in has never been revealed - foreign affairs, perhaps, or some kind of anatomical research?

It was in this role, presumably, that she became associated with our Little Caesar of Sport, Colin Moynihan. He was so impressed by her exotic charms that he even managed to take time off from his life's work of bullying, threatening and slandering football supporters to be photographed, smirking horribly, escorting the lady to a Tory ball - and we all know (nudge, nudge) what sleazy affairs they are. There is no suggestion that Ms Bordes was paid for her researching services to little Colin though I suppose that anyone might reasonably expect a hefty fee just for the ordeal of being seen in his company.

Really, you know, this Moynihangate scandal is tarnishing the image of sport. He may effect righteousness when he urges the world to avoid being contaminated by British football supporters but what self-respecting football hooligan would want to be associated, even obliquely, with a person of Moynihan's type. It's time for the Great Referee, Margaret Thatcher, to show him the red card.

He is, after all, bringing the game - and those on the game - into disrepute.

THE TED BUDDEN COLUMN

Ted Budden was a founder member of the National Front. In his column he gives his view of the world. His comments and observations do not necessarily reflect National Front policy.

Heal Thyself!

IT SEEMS that a very high proportion of the medical profession spend their time aborting babies or peddling healthy human organs in the way that a butcher peddles liver and lights. This does not, however, appear to have in any way diminished the high esteem in which they hold themselves.

While I respect the advice of doctors, just as I would that of any other mechanic, I dispute their claim to god-like status; for that is indeed what they seem to be demanding.

For instance, when they insist, as they did recently, that the Chancellor of the Exchequer impose heavy fines on smokers and drinkers for daring to ignore doctors' advice, my irritation turns to downright hostility.

Like most simpletons, I have always supposed that taxes were a means of raising revenue to finance, among other things, the activities of doctors. Doctors, however, seem to suppose they they are a means of punishing bon vivants.

I resent their impudence and I would regard the credentials of the self-proclaimed guardians of the nation's health - the BMA and that mysterious organisation ASH - as being rather more credible if they did not drive their motor cars from press conference to press conference to denounce 'passive smoking', happily belching carcinogenic exhaust gases in the faces of innocent cyclists and pedestrians.

I was weaned on bread and dripping; I have smoked and imbibed spirituous liquors for most of my life; my red corpuscles are swimming in a vertiable ocean of cholesterol, and I'm still here if only just.

So budget week was a good one for me. The Chancellor did not increase taxes on beer and baccy and the resultant cries of outrage and anguish from the health fanatics were sweet music to my ears. About the same time it was revealed that wholemeal bread, jacket potatoes and salad vegetables were just loaded with pesticides so that the average healthy eater now carries enough insecticide to deter a kamikaze mosquito. Health cranks probably now believe that the only way to stay healthy is to starve to death.

So really it's a case of "Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die" or if you are a health crank, possibly today.

The USA Way

WILL THE Americans ever learn that the rest of the world is not just an extension of the good old US of A? They appear to be totally incapable of grasping the fact that other countries and other cultures are not exactly thirsting to embrace 'the American Way of Life'. Their foreign adventures, all in the name of 'democracy', have been a catalogue of bumbling disaster and mind-boggling naivety.

After the war, having forced the exhausted European nations to give up their overseas empires, the Americans sought to replace European influence and stability with a kind of Pax Americana. They succeeded in making the world an infinitely more dangerous place to live in.

Their latest foreign adventure, in Afghanistan, is surely their most fatuous to date.

Afghanistan is a multi-racial state people by tribes ranging from near-white to oriental, whose favourite sport is killing each other. It has always been so. Insofar as the country is governable at all it has only been by the iron hand of despots.

It was, no doubt, wicked of the Soviet Union to attempt to bolster a friendly if unpopular government on its southern border - something the Americans would never dream of doing in, for example, Central America.

However, in portraying the Russian intervention as an attack on 'democracy', the Americans seemed not to have grasped the fact that democracy is a concept as alien to Afghanistan as it is to any other Islamic state. To counter this Russian threat to democracy, they armed the Afghan bandits with the most sophisticated modern weapons, thereby affording them the immense satisfaction of having really up-to-date methods of killing each other.

Now the Russians have withdrawn, one might have been expected the Americans to have been delighted at the triumph of democracy. In fact they seemed somewhat unwilling, after the loss of the country's only stabilising influence, to be left to the tender mercies of democratic forces, armed to the teeth, that they themselves unleashed. So they closed down their embassy in Kabul and took a powder, real fast, leaving Afghanistan in chaos, anarchy and ruins. Exporting the American way of life you see. It's just like Washington D.C.!

TIME CALLED ON FAMILY CIDER FIRM

WILLIAMS BROTHERS, brewers of the legendary Kingston Black Scrumpy, went under the auctioneer's hammer on 16th March.

The 140 year-old business, which has been handed down from father to son, is selling up because of pressure from mass-marketed keg cider and because the making of real farmhouse scumpy is becoming a lost art that the last owner, Bob Williams, could find no one to carry on the business when he retired.

Williams' Sparkling Kingston Black is brewed from the Kingston Black cider apple, which uniquely does not need blending with other fruit to produce a well balanced cider. At one time Williams brewed 100,000 gallons of cider a year, now this is down to 30,000 and the orchards down to its last 60 acres.

Now Kingston is no more, and the big three cider keg-fizzers, Bulmer's, Coates-Gaymer and Taunton, who already hold over 90% of the cider trade, move ever nearer to total monopoly.

LEGGING IT OUT OF TOXTETH

THERE IS no better story for The FLAG than one where the promoters of the Multi-Racialism get an insight into the reality of the nightmare they are creating.

Well Channel 4, chief singer of the praises of anything Black and Asian got a taste of what life is like in Toxteth.

A twelve strong camera-crew filming the wonderful achievements of the Liverpool 8 Writers Workshop which tries to encourage creative talent in the area, just happened to wander into the Granby and Eversley Street 'NO-GO' area.

The crew were forced out of their vehicles, punched and kicked, had £16,000 worth of equipment stolen and then were chased out of the area.

A Channel 4 spokesman said, "The crew were very frightened by what happened. They do not know why these people took this attitude at all".

The FLAG can tell them why! Toxteth has been taken over by the Blacks and they don't like Whites coming in. It's just one of many areas which has been lost to the British people.

The whole delightful episode was capped by the Merseyside Police who denied the camera crew's claim that Toxteth was a NO-GO area.

Such is the nightmare of our multi-racial society. Will we ever wake up from it?

Destroy

The Salmon Rushdie episode shows up Islam for the intolerant and barbaric religion it is. It also underlines the privileged position these unwelcome immigrants enjoy both here and in West Europe.

Mr Rushdie is impudently shielding behind our progressive humane society. What would have been his fate had he written his 'Satanic Verses' in his native land?

What About Ireland?

I am writing to you to express my concern over the total disregard shown by the Party towards Ireland. It appears to many in the Party that Ireland does not exist, some may even wish that it didn't.

However, in the National Front Manifesto, part 5, paragraph 5, 13, it states "We look forward to the day when the British people can be re-united. In the case of Ireland this must mean that Southern Ireland voluntarily rejoins the British family of nations".

In what ways does the National Front encourage the people of Ireland to reject the foul teachings of the Marxist IRA and seek a REAL nationalist alternative? In what shape or form does the Party encourage Ireland to rejoin the British family of nations?

The people of Ireland need the National Front if they are to remain White and their Celtic culture intact. The National Front needs Ireland if the British family of nations is to become more than just a dream.

Also, I find in 'An Introduction to the National Front' page 24, the following passage 'We would value the other languages of our people: Scots Gaelic, Cornish and Welsh'. Why no mention of Irish Gaelic?

Surely, if we are to encourage the people of Ireland to rejoin the British family of nations we must not isolate them from our future policies. Ireland will eventually play a part in our future, one way or an other.

Obviously, the current constitution of Ireland must be changed. Northern Ireland will always be British.

Ireland is in a very sad state. While thousands of native Irishmen and women leave the Emerald Isle each year in search of work, they are quickly replaced by equal numbers of Chinese and Pakistani immigrants. Street crime is rife in the capital, Dublin, and mugging is common place. One wonders whether Sinn Fein will be carrying out their 'knee-capping' campaigns on their new found 'Irishmen'?

Come on National Front support Ireland, encourage the case for the emergence of REAL IRISH NATIONALISM.

The Word of God

In reply to criticism by Eric White (Letters, The FLAG No. 28) of 'Thought for the Month'. With the exception of the months that have Easter and Witsun all verses reflect National Front policy.

The Bible is the word of God and those who dispute that will conveniently deny the existence of God to try to win their argument. Comments by man have no guarantee of righteousness and others will always disagree.

I know very little of Odinism. Eric White must admit that he knows little of Christianity when he refers to it having Middle Eastern Mullahs. It is also untrue in calling Christianity an alien Middle Eastern cult.

Christianity was first adopted by Europeans, namely Romans and Greeks in the first century A.D. when the Jews rejected Christ. It was the Romans that first brought Christianity to Britain.

Britain is a Christian country. We have a Christian Queen and there are many Christians in Government although they are continually erring and most are weak in character. Remembrance Sunday is a Christian service when the nation comes together to remember our war dead. St George's Day is a Christian festival. (Saints come from Christian belief only).

'Thought for the Month' is relevant to the National Front because we are seeking to influence the inhabitants of a Christian country. As far as Odinism is concerned it is irrelevant in Britain today.

Ulster Remembers

Well Done The FLAG. I bought a copy of your paper at the recent Brighton v Chelsea match. It was the first time I had seen the paper although I had heard of it through the Ulster Magazine.

The article on IRA-solicitor Finucane was excellent and the only time I have seen such reflections on the issue in a mainland paper.

The picture of the butchered soldier after the IRA funeral brings home to the supporters of Ulster the price that British soldiers pay in standing by the Province. I can assure you that it is appreciated.

There is a mural on a wall in Belfast that recognises the sacrifice made by those two soldiers and it goes to show, although only in a small way, the gratitude of the people of Ulster.

As a Loyalist on the mainland I thank The FLAG, the National Front, and those loyal British subjects who are standing firm in the face of the IRA and its army of agents throughout the country.

Gibberish

*I could just about tolerate 'Mad Mullahs', 'Howling Dervishes', 'Mad Islamic Dictators' and 'Muslim Maniacs' ( The FLAG, March) but do you honestly expect 'woggish scribbler', 'weedy wog', 'sooty aliens' and 'ragheads' to pass without comment? # AIDS Fuelling Racial Hatred

A CONFERENCE has been organised by Race Relations Groups in Liverpool to combat statements made by AIDS researchers that the disease was transmitted by monkeys to Africans.

Being a disease transmitted by homosexual activity and originally only found in monkeys, medical opinion is suggesting that the only way it was passed onto humans was through male East Africans having anal intercourse with male monkeys.

Such statements have upset the Race Relations industry who accuse the AIDS medical researchers of 'fuelling race hatred in Britain and Western Europe".

FARMS RUINED

THE RECENT BBC TV play Heartland in which Anthony Hopkins movingly played a small Welsh farmer crushed and bankrupted by EEC Bureaucrats and their endless quotas and regulations, is all too true, the Farmers' Union of Wales warned the Government in a policy document.

The Welsh farmers point out that, although the number of farms in the Principality has remained constant at 30,000, in recent years, this conceals the fact that there are now far fewer family farms and far more big 'agri-business' combine establishments. This is largely thanks to the EEC bureaucracy, which discriminates against the little man in favour of faceless accountants of agri-business.

Only the National Front will get us out of the EEC and only the National Front will encourage the establishment of small family-owned farms.

Culloden by John Prebble
Their bellies empty, their leaders at odds, the ill-chosen ground, the Highlanders never had a chance and the aftermath was one of the bloodiest episodes in British history. It is crucial we learn from the past if the United Kingdom is to have a future.
360pp £4.45

The Highland Clearances by John Prebble
After Culloden the Highlanders were deserted and then betrayed into famine and poverty, while their chiefs grew rich on meat and wool. This is the story of greed and profit putting sheep before people. Sounds familiar?
336pp £5.45

Beowulf
The greatest old English poem and perhaps the single most significant survival from the Anglo-Saxon period. Though its composition was completed in the 8th Century it is set in the heroic era of 5th century Scandinavia. A poem of heroes and the struggle of good against evil.
169pp £2.95

THE Iliad by Homer
The Iliad is the greatest literary achievement of Greek civilization - an epic poem without rival. The story centres on the last year of the Trojan war but is used as the backdrop for Homer's view of the world.
464pp £3.45

A History of the English Church & People by Bede
Written in AD731, Bede's history brings to life the forests, fens, highlands and islands of Saxon England and Celtic Britain and describes the struggle for religious and political unity during the formative years of the English people.
361pp £3.95

Rural Rides by William Cobbett
A description of a number of tours through the South of England made on horseback. A recounting of the beauties of the countryside coupled with indignant outbursts at the mushroom growth of cities and the suffering of the poor.
541pp £4.95

The Worm Forgives The Plough by John Stewart Collis
Both a remarkable account of working on the land during the Second World War and a series of reflections on the intricate patterns and connections to be found in the humblest of natural things. The Worm Forgives the Plough is the fusion of a scientific and poetic vision that has rarely been equalled.
362pp £6.55

Animal Farm by George Orwell
A novel about a farm where the animals take control, or more accurately perhaps, a country where the people take control. But the revolution is betrayed by its leaders. A classic book whose lessons can be applied not only to society at large but perhaps to the NF as well.

by Bob Nash

ONE OF Britain's most successful musical exports within the last six years has been been Heavy Rock Band Def Leppard.

From relative obscurity in the early 1980s, Def Leppard are now riding the crest of the wave in both commercial and artistic popularity, as far as the Heavy Rock scene is concerned.

Their current success seems all the more impressive considering their debut album, 'High N' Dry' was written off by most critics as just another average Rock LP by an unknown British group.

Def Leppard must have clearly relished having the last laugh on their early critics, as their last two albums 'Pyromania' (released 1983) and 'Hysteria' (1987) have made them one of the biggest selling bands the music industry has ever known.

Produced by the respected Robert 'Mutt' Lange, who also worked on AC/DC's Back in Black' album 'Pyromania' has achieved massive worldwide sales and includes such classic Leppard tracks as 'Rock, Rock', 'Photograph', 'Stagefright', 'Diehard the Hunter' and 'Rock of Ages' (a personal favourite of yours truly).

'Hysteria', the band's follow-up and latest album has at the time of writing notched up over 12 million copies; containing within its grooves such musical gems as 'Animal', 'Pour Some Sugar on Me', 'Armmegedon It' and their latest single relased in January of this year 'Rocket'.

Another factor which has contributed greatly to Def Leppard's success amongst the British Rock audience is their pride and determination to preserve their identity as a British band. To quote Joe Elliott, their lead singer, from an interview with Sounds music mag on July 2nd 1988, " . . . I don't care what anybody says, music from Britain is the best in the world . . . people invented music in Britain. I don't care about blues singers in Louisianna, good music is first and foremost British and it will always be".

Well, who can really disagree with him.

FLAG SPORT

SUCH A SAD END FOR NEWPORT COUNTY

LAST YEAR in The FLAG we covered the incredible fight back by Lincoln City Football Club from the G.M. Conference League to Division Four just 12 months after losing their league status.

We said at the time that their achievement should be ranked with the greatest footballing stories, and this was bourne out by the demise of Newport County Football Club in March.

Newport lost their league status last May and were bottom of the Conference League when, with £126,000 worth of debts, they were forced to fold. Just two years earlier they had been in the Third Division but, unlike Lincoln City, they could not reverse their decline and now the Somerton Road ground has been re-possessed by the local council and the club expelled from the Conference League.

In 1981 Newport had reached the quarter-finals of the European Cup Winners' Cup where they were beaten by Carl Ziess Jena, who presented them after the game, with a trophy for their efforts. That trophy was sold at an auction at the ground on Saturday 1st April for £360 together with the sign over the manager's door which went for £40 and 600 other lots which raised £12,000 towards Newport County's debts.

What a sad, sad, end to the life of a once so proud Welsh football club.

Lincoln City proved that it's nonsense to say that 'they never come back' and now another former league club might just be proving that. Barrow lost their league status in the early 1970s and plumetted down through the minor leagues to end up in the HPS Loans League. It was a tragic spiralling decline for a club whose Holker Street Ground's grafitti once proudly boasted 'Barrow Rule the Third'. But now they are coming back. If the final few results go right for them August 1989 will see them promoted to the GM Confernece League and from there they can take that great step back into league football.

The greatest football battles are fought for survival by clubs that run on a shoestring in front of a handful of fans. The money is not there to buy themselves out of trouble, they have to do it by commitment, dedication and belief in themselves. It's the qualities that makes their battle so similar to the battle we fight in the National Front.

When Every Game is a Cup Final

WITH ALL the ballyhoo about the First Division title race, "will it be Arsenal or will it be Liverpool?", the media are ignoring a battle infinitely more important.

Arsenal and Liverpool are striving for glory. Colchester, Darlington and Peterborough are fighting for survival. Every game for these three clubs is a cup final. Every 90 minutes, their players, managers and staff are defending their jobs, their way of life and their future.

Tuesday 4th April saw all three clubs draw 1-1, and it looks as though the final few games will decide their future. The fate of Newport County must be haunting Layer Road and Fleethams and the only crumb of comfort for Colchester and Darlington have been the improved attendances as the locals sense the importance of every game.

Who cares about whether Arsenal or Liverpool can gain another trophy, the real battle is being fought at the bottom of the Fourth Division.

Muddle over White Paper

Britain's Anglers Deserve Better

THE BILL to privatise the Water Authorities has left Britain's anglers completely in the dark.

The two inch thick White Paper being rushed through Parliament is a muddle from beginning to end and even the politicians at Westminster can't answer two simple questions.

QUESTION ONE: Who is in charge of reservoir fishing that accomodates more than a million anglers every year? Is it the National Rivers Authority? Is it the new commercial water companies?. Or is it to be run jointly by them both?

QUESTION TWO: How much money has been allocated for the cleaning up of Britain's rivers to accomodate the other million anglers who enjoy river fishing? What are the new safeguards to stop the pollution of Britain's rivers?

It's a disgrace that these simple questions are not answered in the Bill. Britain's anglers deserve better.

Killing Off the Living Rivers

ONE question that is being answered is by the North-West Water Authority. They ARE raising the amount effluent allowed to be discharged by their 108 plants.

The authority, already described as one of Europe's worst for pollution, is planning to legalise the waste which at present pours illegally into its rivers.

A letter, sent by David Marshall, senior water quality officer at NWWA, confirms the authority wants to review the limits. The NWWA has already raised its acceptable pollution limits in 1983 and 1985.

The new move will kill off what is left of the North-West's 'living' rivers. It's designed to make water privatisation acceptable to the city bankers so they take up their shares. Pollution is the child of greed. The Government's Water Privatisation Bill shows that Mrs Thatcher's 'green' crusade is as empty and her pledges on stopping coloured immigration.

Pollution: It's the child of Greed.

BRITAIN'S GREAT WHITE HOPE!

BRITAIN COULD have a new White heavyweight boxing hope for the future.

Adam Fogerty is a 16st, 6ft 5ins, former second row rugby league forward with Oldham, who after just six fights is making a name for himself.

We will watch his progress with interest.

TIPSTER CHANGES TACTICS

IT WAS disappointment all around as The FLAG's tips for the Cheltenham Festival failed in their efforts to bring financial reward. Highland Bud at 8-1 was seen off in the final strides by 66-1 winner Ikdam, while Kribensis look all over the winner at the final flight but just couldn't handle the Cheltenham hill. The Thinker was the biggest disappointment. He was just lobbing along on the second circuit when he slipped on landing. This writer was convinced he would have won the Gold Cup had he stood up.

Still near misses don't bash the bookies and that's the purpose of this column. So that is why we are changing tactics.

Punters are recommended to follow the horses on the Flat of the Bedstead family who train at Epsom. This column was informed in March of the well-being of this string and which was bourne out by a 16-1 winner that they had on the first Saturday of the season at Kempton.

The FLAG will keep a record of the runners and their performance and will report back to you in the next issue. Don't go mad, invest say £1.50 a selection and we'll see if we can make a profit!

Faldo in Hot Water

• Nick Faldo

BRITISH GOLFER, Nick Faldo is in trouble after appearing on BBC's Question of Sport.

While trying to identify squash player, Pakistani Jahangir Khan, Faldo mentioned "Chicken Kashmir" and "Chaka Khan".

Such jokes went down badly with Pakistanis and Indians watching the programme who jammed the switchboard complaining, and the BBC was forced to issue an apology to the Pakistani player.

HOCKEY NEEDS A HOME!

BRITAIN'S LADIES hockey team put on an excellent display last month to beat the talented West German side 3-2 at Wembley.

It was disappointing though that, despite there being an upsurge in interest in hockey generally, only 25,000 turned up to watch the game, the smallest crowd for 38 years.

The pitch at Wembley is not suitable to enhance the skills of hockey, a game that needs to be played on an artificial surface.

Hockey in Britain is moving into a new popular era and it should be accomodated in its own special stadium
